COUNTY HAS FOUR STATE 4-H WINNERS

VISALIA — Four Tulare county 4-H club members have been judged 1972 state award winners - Richard Bennett, Vandalia, beef; Rodney Valine, Rockford, sheep; Cheryl Souza, Oak Valley, health; and Tim Fox, Elbow Creek, veterinary science.

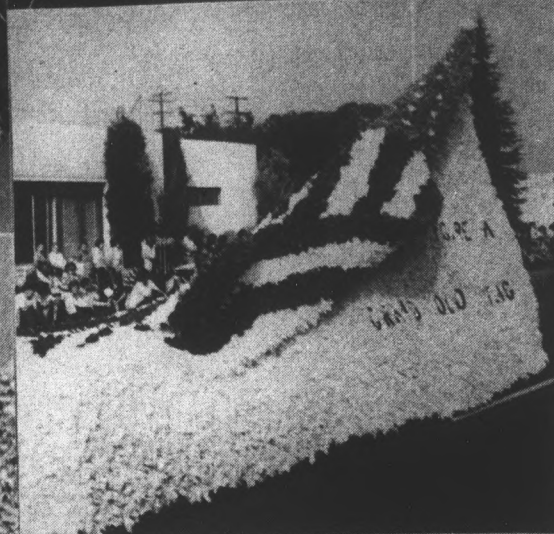

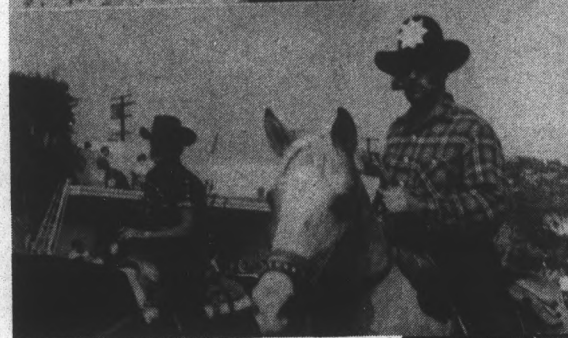

Alternates named were: Robert Fallert, conservation, and Joe Fallert, safety both of Pleasant View 4-H club; and Mark Swall of the Oakdale 4-H club, petroleum power.

Special recognition was given to the Vandalia 4-H club for its safety program and to Oak Valley 4-H club for its health program.

Selection of the top young people in 40 projects followed examination of more than 600 record books and recommendations from local leaders. The project review was done by a committee of county and state youth work specialists in U.C. Cooperative (Agricultural) Extension, which guides the educational youth program.

The state awards will take some of the winners to Chicago November 26 to 30 for the National 4-H Club Congress. Sponsors from industry and other friends of the 4-H Club program will make the trips possible. Other winners will receive direct awards, such as U.S. savings bonds, and others have been nominated for regional or national awards.

Mary Ruth Dewey Will Retire At End Of October

VISALIA - Mary Ruth Dewey, Tulare County Home Advisor for the University of California, Agricultural Extension service, will retire October 31, after 17 years service in Tulare county.

Mrs. Dewey came to Tulare county, July 25, 1955 to work with low income migrant farm families. In 1958, she expanded the program to include all interested homemakers when she initiated the newsletter, "Home Advisor Notes". Today, 3,000 homemakers in the county receive home economic tips through the newsletter.

For the past three years Mrs. Dewey has directed the Expanded Nutrition Education program in Tulare county, designed to improve the diets of low income families.

Mrs. Dewey was born in Chicago, but came to California, graduating from Selma Union High school. She majored in home economics at Purdue university and received her bachelor of science degree there in 1928, then started her teaching career in Illinois, but returned to California and was teaching in Redlands just before joining the University of California Agricultural Extension service.

She has three children and four grandchildren and says that one of the joys of her retirement will be the opportunity to visit them frequently, as well as time to travel.

PORTERVILLE'S BARN theater was re-dedicated, Friday night, to the memory of Douglas Beattie, opera singer and Porterville citrus grower, who was a "driving force" 25 years ago in assisting Pete Tewksbury with formation of the theater. Making the re-dedication talk was Frank Sheldon, center, now of Fresno, who was active for several years in the Barn and who built the present theater; with him are Virginia Beattie Baker, left, and Kit Tewksbury. The bronze plaque is set in a block of granite that was a step at the first Porterville high school building on site of the present Belleview school. The re-dedication ceremony was held between acts of the current Barn production, "The Man Who Came To Dinner," starring Eldon Hunt, who appeared in the Barn's first production 25 years ago. MARIO FENINGER, pianist, composer, and lecturer will be the guest artist for the opening concert of the Tulare County Symphony orchestra, to be presented at 7:30 p.m. tonight, October 26, in Williams theater, Visalia. With the orchestra he will present "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra No. 1, in B flat minor" by Tchaikowsky, including the "Allegro non troppo e molto masetoso," "Allegro con spirito," "Andante simplice," "Prestissimo," and "Allegro con fuoco" movements. In addition the orchestra, performing for the 13th season under the baton of Robert Walton Cole, will present the Overture, "La Forza del Destino," by Giuseppe Verdi, and a Symphonic Poem, "Les Preludes" by Franz Liszt. Season tickets are still available at $7.50 for adults and $2.50 for students. Single admissions are available at $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for students. Locally, either season or single admission tickets are available at Gibson Stationery store, 211 North Main street in Porterville. Single admission tickets may also be purchased at the theater box office the night of the concert.

Craft & Hobby Show Nov. 11-12 At Springville

SPRINGVILLE - Annual Springville Crafts and Hobby show, sponsored by the Springville Community club, will be held at the Veterans Memorial auditorium November 11 and 12, from noon until 5 P.M.

A colorful silk quilt, of unusual design, will be raffled off and voting by persons attending will determine prizes for the Most Popular of Show.

A nominal entrance donation will be charged and refreshments served.

The share of U.S. personal income spent on food has declined every year, and now stands at 16.5%, the lowest in the world.

Barbed Wire Collectors To Meet Saturday

MARIPOSA - The California Barbed Wire Collectors association will hold its quarterly fall meeting in the form of a one-day barbed wire show and swap-meet which will be presented at Mariposa on Saturday, October 28.

Location of the show will be Building "A" in the Mariposa County fairgrounds about two miles east of Mariposa on Highway 49. Show hours will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The public is invited to attend without charge.

Exhibited will be antique barbed wire, fencing tools, as well as other collectables. CBWCA members will show their collections and man swap-tables for the benefit of beginning collectors.

A CHECK for $5,000 is being written in above photo by R.D. Jordan, secretary of the Associated Farmers of Tulare County as a contribution to the Fair Employment Practices committee from the Associated Farmers. Looking on are Frank Ribeiro, president of the Associated Farmers of Tulare County, center, and W.F. Jordan, director and past president of the association. The $5,000 will be used in the campaign for passage of Proposition No. 22 on the November 7 ballot - the agricultural labor relations initiative. (Farm Tribune photo)

Associated Farmers Of Tulare Co. Give $5,000 To Prop. 22 Campaign

PORTERVILLE — Associated Farmers of Tulare County have contributed $5,000 to the Fair Labor Practices committee for use in the current campaign to secure passage of Proposition No. 22, the Agricultural Labor Relations initiative on California's November 7 general election ballot.

"Passage of Proposition No. 22 is necessary to assure orderly harvesting and marketing of Tulare county's and California's farm products," said Associated Farmers President Frank Ribeiro, of Tulare, "also to protect the basic right of agricultural workers to unionize or not to unionize through secret ballot vote."

Commenting on the latter point, Ribeiro said, "We strongly believe that no one should be forced to join a union. We believe that a farm worker has a right to join or not to join. The only way this right can be protected is through secret ballot vote in legitimate elections, as is provided for in Proposition No. 22."

Directors of the Associated Farmers of Tulare County voted unanimously at their October meeting to make the $5,000 contribution to the Fair Labor Practices committee.

"Not only will passage of Proposition No. 22 protect the right of farm workers to organize if they vote to do so, it will also protect the right of farmers to market their crops, and the right of consumers to buy the farm commodity they want to buy wherever they choose to shop," Ribeiro said.

Directors of the Associated Farmers of Tulare County, with Ribeiro, are: Gurnice Smith, of Dinuba; Merlin Swearingen and Jim Douglas, of Exeter; W.F. Jordan and R.D. Jordan, of Farmersville; Domer Power, of Strathmore; Shig Uota, of Ivanhoe; and Mrs. Bert Berra, of Porterville.

BERRY, CENTELL GET 25-YEAR PINS

PORTERVILLE — At a brief hospital ceremony, James T. Shelton, M.D., medical director of Porterville State hospital presented 25-year certificates signed by Governor Ronald Reagan and Dr. J.M. Stubblebine, Director of the Department of Mental Hygiene, to two Porterville State Hospital employees: Marlin Berry and Lee Centell.

You'll Find Baird Has a Background That Fully Qualifies Him to Be YOUR NO. 1
CHOICE For the Important Post of Supervisor for the Next Four Years. Read Baird's
Statement Below:

I was born, raised and received primary, secondary and junior college education in Tulare County, graduating in 1937 from the University of California at Berkeley with a Degree in Accounting. I am an orange grower. For 28 years I have been a member of the Strathmore Packing House Company and the Tulare County Lemon Association. For over 60 years my family has engaged in Tulare County cattle and citrus ranching.

For over 30 years I have served Tulare County and the Community as:

- Deputy Superintendent of Schools for Tulare County
- Trustee Strathmore Union High School
- Secretary Strathmore Chamber of Commerce
- Charter member and President of the Strathmore Lions Club
- Judge of the Lindsay Justice Court

The above qualifications provide a background for my being a vigorous District-Wide Representative for Tulare County Agriculture, for the smaller cities and communities, for law enforcement and orderly Tulare County Development and Growth.
